

Schiatti brands excel at the London Design Festival 2017

For 9 days in September the UK's capital was once again transformed into the global design capital, when it hosted the fifteenth London Design Festival. In addition to the many, prestigious events taking place during the festival, leading Schiatti brands held their own unique events at dedicated showrooms. These events reinforced the reputation of these premium brands as leaders in design, with displays of new products, iconic pieces and thought-provoking insights for the demanding, design conscious audiences of the festival.

In this latest newsletter you will see a few of the highlights from the Schiatti brands activities during the London Design Festival 2017. And if you were unable to visit the Festival this year, hopefully you'll ensure this must-see event is in your diary for 2018!

Flexform

The new, extended Interdesign showroom was opened at the Design Centre Chelsea Harbour, and it proved the perfect location for an insightful presentation about the Flexform brand by Giuliano Galimberti.

The new Flexform Mood Collection was launched during the London Design Festival to great acclaim.

LEMA

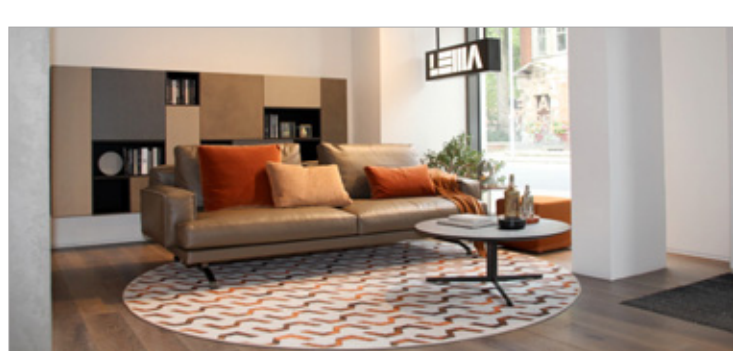

The 'Matter of scale' exhibition in the new LEMA UK showroom on the Kings Road was a huge success with visitors, as was the photographic exhibition of architectural models by Ettore Sottsass, with Johanna Graunder.

The new 2017 LEMA collections designed by Lissoni, Guillaumier, Rota, Lazzeroni, Pillet and Nunziati were a feature of the new showroom.

Porada

The new display in the Porada Showroom, at the Design Centre Chelsea Harbour, featured a wide range of the brand's iconic pieces, together with many new products launched at Salone del Mobile 2017.

To toast the new display and pieces, Porada created a fizzy corner of Italy in the Design Centre with its popular Prosecco tasting session!
